

BONE TRIGGER

BAND STORY

"Bone Trigger Experience, dedication, and well-written music form the backbone of this extraordinary five-piece rock band from Toronto, Ontario, Canada. Their sound is a synergistic explosion of intelligently layered heavy grooves and emotionally charged vocals complimented by melodic leads and subtle overtones. Bone Trigger's harnessed passions and high energy find release in dynamic performances that leave audiences suspended on an endless wave of musical invention. Carlos Demelo, Bone Trigger's front man and songwriter, wrote and performed as lead guitarist for Toronto's Hellz Kitchen Show. During this time, Carlos developed his strong stage presence and opened for acts such as Marilyn Manson, Dope, Not By Choice, Danko Jones, Robin Black and the IRS, LA Guns, and Nash the Slash. Carlos fine-tuned his writing and studio skills working with industry respected producers such as Rick Anderson (Rush), and Sean Gregory (Emerald Rain). In the year 2007, Carlos formed Bone Trigger, with Pete Walsh on lead guitar, Darren Lazary on rhythm guitar, James Dowell on Bass and Rene Martineau on drums. Bone Trigger released a demo CD in 2008 consists of 4 original tracks that received attention on Garageband.com, Myspace.com, and RadioUgly.com, and have charted in the top ten on Reverbnation.com and indiecharts.com. They have won both the local and international battle of the bands contest for, www.gbob.com. (The Worlds Biggest Challenge). This allowed them to share the stage live with Alexisonfire, Julian Marley and Bad Religion. In addition, Bone Trigger won the www.mini-indy.com (Battle of the Bands) competition, and, placed 2nd for the radio Y108 breakout challenge contest for the Hamilton
